

These initial questions were generated by the class, just as a jumping off point. Feel free to structure your interview however makes sense, and take the conversation and synthesis wherever you find interesting.

---

Why did you come to Cooper? What do you want to do in the future? What official and unofficial roles do you play in the school? What's a class you really liked at Cooper and why? Do you work for money? What do you do for fun in your free time? How would you describe Cooper Union? How have you changed while at Cooper? Where do you see yourself in 5 years? 10? What is an institution? What is critique? What is institutional critique? What is a critical institution? What is critical critique? Do you recommend being in a relationship with someone at Cooper? Who do you think you are? Do you care? What do people have to be asked? When is infrastructure? What's your relationship with New York, living in the city? How much does a barrel of oil cost? Do you watch sports? Do your parents understand what you do? Do people at large? Where do your work? (Where and what is your studio? Office? Study room?)